Presentation

The Professional Master's program provides specialized training to meet the growing advancements in the job market. It aims to equip motivated and high-potential students with hands-on, practical training that is innovative within the national and European context. The education is of exceptional quality, grounded in evidence-based practices and the acquisition of skills for solving complex situations in real work settings. The Master's program is offered in both workday and after-work hours, with a hybrid structure of online and in-person classes. This structure allows students to better balance their academic and active professional lives, providing them with flexibility to study, acquire, and deepen knowledge while actively practicing their profession on a daily basis.
